

How many samples separate the candidate laws by their mass left of the mean separation in binomial standard errors

